Sample Documents

Aliens are required to show proof of status to qualify for assistance. Only original immigration documents should be accepted as verification of alien registration status. Copies of both sides of all documentation should be kept in the county case files.

Arrival/Departure Record: Form I-94

Aliens who are granted admission to the U.S. are issued form I-94, "Arrival/Departure Record". The I-94 contains demographic information, such as the alien number, the date the alien entered the U.S., the name, date of birth, country of origin, a status stamp, and the port of entry. It explains how long the person may remain in the U.S. and the terms of admission. Because the I-94 is double-sided and the alien number is typically found on the back of the I-94, both sides must be copied and kept together in the case file so as not to confuse more than one person's information.

The date of birth (DOB) on the I-94 is entered in day, month, and year format, which is different than the month, day, and year format typically used on other documents. Special attention is needed to enter the DOB in U.S. format. Many refugees do not have their birth date officially recorded, so their date of birth is entered as January 1, XXXX. This is an acceptable date that should be verified with the date on SAVE.

Beginning in April, 2013, I-94 data is recorded electronically and most aliens are not provided a printed copy of their I-94. Benefit applicants can print a copy of their I-94 via www.cbp.gov/i94. Printed copies of the I-94 form are considered official I-94 forms and can be used to verify immigration status for public benefits purposes.

Iraqi/Afghan Special Immigrant Visa

Individuals from Iraq or Afghanistan may present a visa indicating they were admitted as a special immigrant. The people granted this status are lawful permanent residents (LPR) from the day they enter the U.S., but they are eligible for benefits to the same extent as refugees. Therefore, they have a special code on AEICZ. The special immigrant visa looks very much like any other visa.

Non-Immigrant Visas

Non-Immigrant Visas are issued to students, travelers or people who come to the U.S. to do business. They are proof that the person entered the U.S. legally, but they do not indicate that they are qualified aliens. Non-immigrant visas are issued for a temporary timeframe and do not include notations about permanent resident status, nor do they contain a “registration” (alien) number.

Employment Authorization Document: Form I-766

The Employment Authorization Document (EAD), form I-688B or I-766, is issued to non-citizens who are authorized to work in the U.S. temporarily. It contains the same information as the Permanent Resident Card.

Example of a Letter Granting Asylum

Below is an example of a letter issued by the USCIS granting asylum to an individual. Make sure that the letter states asylum status has been granted and code the person as "GA". The letter tells the individual that status as an asylee is being considered or is under appeal, they cannot receive benefits, and should be coded using code "AA". The date that asylum is granted is spelled out within the letter (see bolded sentence). With this letter the individual can work and receive benefits. Use the date asylum status was granted as the "entry" and "document date" on AEICZ.

Asylum Approval

Dear Name:

This letter refers to your request for asylum in the United States filed on Form I-589.

It has been determined that you are eligible for asylum in the United States. Attached please find a completed Form I-94, Arrival Departure Record, indicating that you have been granted asylum status in the United States pursuant to § 208 (a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA) as of DATE. This grant of asylum includes your dependents listed above who are present in the United States, were included in your asylum application, and for whom you have established a qualifying relationship by a preponderance of evidence.

You have been granted asylum in the United States for an indefinite period; however, asylum status does not give you the right to remain permanently in the United States. Asylum status may be terminated if you no longer have a well-founded fear of persecution because of a fundamental change in circumstances, you have obtained protection from another country or you have committed certain crimes or engaged in other activity that makes you ineligible to retain asylum status in the United States. See INA § 208(c)(2).

Now that you are an asylee, you may apply for certain benefits, which are listed below. You are also responsible for complying with certain laws and regulations, if such laws and regulations apply to you. These responsibilities are also explained in this letter. We recommend that you retain the original of this letter as proof of your status and that you submit copies of this letter when applying for any of the benefits or services listed below. You may obtain any of the forms mentioned in this letter by visiting an USCIS district office or calling National Customer Service Center (NCSC) at 1-800-375-5283 (TTY 1-800-767-1833). You may also download any USCIS form from the public Internet by signing on the USCIS website at <http://www.uscis.gov/portal/site/uscis>.

Note: Please write your full name, date of birth, and A-number on any correspondence you have with the USCIS.

Sincerely,

Example of a Letter Certifying Status as a Victim of Trafficking

Below is a letter issued by ORR granting the individual certification under the Trafficking Victims Protection Act of 2000. With this letter, victims of a severe form of trafficking are allowed to work and receive benefits effective the date of certification. Victims under 18 years of age do not need to be certified, but will have a letter similar to the one below. For victims of trafficking, SAVE does not show this status. Victim of Trafficking status must be verified by calling the number on the letter. Use the date from the “certification date” line as the “entry date” and “document date” on AEICZ.
